Artist Statement

Terri Silver is from New York, originally. She has always painted. Terri uses watercolor as her primary medium, although she is also using PanPastels more often. Her style varies from impressionistic to abstract - depending on her mood. She likes to challenge herself. Terri wants people to discover a feeling of emotion when they view her artwork or make them analyze what they are viewing.

She paints how she feels, illustrating to her audiences the beauty of something around them and how it influences their own lives. Through the years, she created art as a side business, exhibiting in a number of shows. Now, a retired teacher, she can concentrate more on painting and commissioned artwork. Terri's art is in currently in digital shows and in venues across the Dallas area.
